Notes

Please note that all details are currently provisional and subject to governing body approval

Training

These events are free and open to any local rider. They are basically bunched training sessions with riders setting of in ability based groups. Generally last around 1 hour and used to build endurance and speed and also increase confidence in bunched riding. They are not RACES

HTRC Club Events

These time trials are open to any rider of a CTT registered club. They are ran as a season long championship and all members of HTRC are eligible for points and trophies/prizes at the end of the season. Entry is possible to the full series from mid January onwards. Entry to individual events on the night is possible but it makes thing much easier if entry is confirmed before the event either by phone or email

Open road races

Generally speaking you need to be a member of a registered club and either hold a BC licence or purchase a day licence to ride the event. Entry sometimes available on the day but popular events are often full 2-3 weeks beforehand. Full details of all road races are available from the British cycling website

Road race league

These are handicap road races over approximately 30 to 40 miles with riders setting of in ability /age related groups. They are organised as a series of 8 events under TLI rules. Generally speaking you need to be a member of a registered club and either hold a TLI licence or purchase a day licence to ride the event. Entry is possible to the full series or to individual events on the night. Typical entry cost £10 per event or £60 for the full series including TLI Licence. Further details later in the year.

Open time trials

These events are open to any rider of a CTT registered club. No entry available on the line so you need to enter in advance on an official CTT entry form (usually 10-12 days). Full details of all events are listed on the CTT website <http://www.cyclingtimetrials.org.uk/>
